A Message from the Executive Director

As we move into the heart of spring, I find myself reflecting on a simple but powerful truth: it takes a village. This phrase is often used, but here at Bonner Homeless Transitions, we see its meaning come to life every single day.

Our “village” is made up of many people; staff, donors, volunteers, community partners and neighbors. Each bringing their own gifts, time and compassion. Together, we create something far greater than any one of us could accomplish alone: stability for families, hope for individuals and pathways out of homelessness.

This spirit of community is especially evident as we prepare for one of our most meaningful events of the year, our Little Black Dress Fundraiser on April 30th. This event is more than just an evening out; it is a celebration of what we can achieve together. Every ticket purchased, every sponsorship and every act of generosity directly supports our work and strengthens the safety net for those in our community who need it most.

When you attend or support this event, you are not just contributing financially. You are standing alongside someone as they take steps toward housing, employment and a more stable future. You are part of the village that says, “You are not alone.”

We are deeply grateful for the role each of you plays in this shared effort. Whether you give, volunteer, advocate, or simply help spread the word, your involvement matters more than you may realize.

I hope you’ll join us on April 30th as we come together in celebration, connection and purpose. When a village shows up with care and commitment, real change happens.

With gratitude,

Rebekah Little, Executive Director

It Takes a Village

This month, we're focusing on a powerful truth: it takes a village.

For individuals experiencing homelessness, the journey toward stability is never taken alone. It is shaped by a network of support. People who show up with compassion, resources and a belief that change is possible.

A strong community provides more than services. It offers connection, encouragement and the steady presence needed to rebuild trust and move forward. Whether it's a volunteer offering their time, a donor investing in opportunity, or a neighbor extending kindness, each person plays a vital role.

Because when a village comes together, hope is strengthened and lasting change becomes possible.

Stories that stay with me

A Story of Hope

On a Friday afternoon, we received a call from one of the nicest hotels in Sandpoint. The manager told us about a large family who had nowhere to go. This was unusual for this hotel, so we went right away to meet them.

Rebekah and I sat down with the couple and listened to their story. They had just moved here from across the country. They did not have a vehicle. The father was well educated and had a good job. While they were staying at the hotel and looking for a home, he was suddenly laid off. Without income, they could not keep paying for the hotel. They were told they had two hours to leave before the police would be called.

We knew we had to act quickly.

Thankfully, we already had a family who was moving out of a one-bedroom apartment that weekend. We called and asked if they could move out sooner. They kindly agreed to be out the very next morning.

That Friday night, Rebekah, myself and her gracious Uncle that was in town visiting, used three vehicles to move the large family and all their belongings to another hotel so they would have a safe place to sleep. Early Saturday morning, we picked them up and brought them to the apartment. We worked together to figure out sleeping arrangements and set up the furniture. After that, we went to Walmart to buy groceries and other necessities that we did not have on hand.

It was truly a team effort.

This family has shown amazing strength and positive attitudes through it all. Even in such a scary and uncertain time, they remained grateful and hopeful.

Because of your support, we were able to step in during a crisis and provide safety, shelter, and hope. Thank you for helping families in Sandpoint when they need it most.
